Mark McNett is a retired cable access television producer with experience working in farming, pharmaceutical research, petroleum prospecting, transportation, construction, electronics and other manufacturing, the hospitality industry, plus state and federal government. He is a certified residential wiring electrician in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Educated in the New York public school and community university system, he's been a fundraiser for the American Heart Association, member of Race Communications Association at Watkins Glen International race circuit and Salvation Army volunteer. He is a lifelong blood donor and Hawai'i Hunter Education graduate. This candidacy offers to include all of the district's electorate as full partners in easing transition from the incumbent to the full-term Representative-Elect.

Priorities are more diplomatic interaction with under-attended foreign governments, environmental damage reduction and reversal, economic viability promotion, universal healthcare, endangered culture preservation, updating the justice and correctional systems, raising educational opportunity, supporting healthier lifestyles and insistence on voting rights for Washington, D.C. city residents.

This campaign advocates parity among national economies, cutting corporate control over electoral and legislative processes, urging alternative fuel use and implementing more practical drug policies.

Mark McNett is committed to work in favor of expanded family leave, eliminating tax dodges, taxing parasitic underground economies, checking the runaway expansion of Executive Branch powers and calming areas of global unrest rather than destabilizing them.
